Data Protection Statement

The University Sports Service has an interest in and a co-ordinated approach to University Sports Clubs and their members, alumni and supporters. This statement explains how the Sports Service handles and uses data it collects about Sports Club members, alumni, and their current and future supporters.

We have our own database, and may also utilise the databases of the University and the Development and Alumni Relations office to keep in touch with alumni and provide services to them (e.g. invitations to events). We also use data to focus on relationships with alumni, and to assess how members of Sports Clubs have participated and performed within their sport(s) and the University.

Transparency

The Sports Service creates records from information submitted by University Sports Clubs. Records exist for individual club members, including information such as sporting performance, teams, and Colleges, and records are also created for submissions by Sports Clubs as part of the annual registration process. Club records are held with annual update information, including committee lists, accounts, and applications for grants and resources.

Sporting performance data are collected by the Sports Service and integrated into our own database, as well as those of the University. Your data may be processed by the Club and the University (including the Sports Service) for analysis, monitoring, and research, including linking your sporting records with academic records held by the University.

Security and controlled data sharing with partners

All information is held and transmitted securely, and (in addition to disclosure as permitted or required by law) may be shared on a considered and confidential basis only with the University and the Colleges. The Sports Service and the University may also facilitate communication between individual alumni, but in doing so does not release personal contact details without prior permission.

Control

Your club and your club’s members are in control. If you have any queries, wish to restrict data processing or sharing (including use for marketing), or do not want certain members to be contacted by the University, please let us know. (Minimal information is always retained to make sure you are not contacted again inadvertently). Otherwise we will maintain your records in support of your life-long relationship with the University.

We will publish any changes we make to this data protection statement and notify you where appropriate.

For full details of how your personal data is used by the University while you are a student and once you are an alumnus/a, please see the statements at https://www.information-compliance.admin.cam.ac.uk/data-protection/student-data and https://www.information-compliance.admin.cam.ac.uk/data-protection/alumni-data
