Welcome to sport, health and fitness at the University of Cambridge!

Last year sport at Cambridge bounced back with great enthusiasm and success after the disruption of the previous couple of years. More competitive fixtures than ever before were played and a number of league wins alongside some strong individual competition performances saw a pleasing 18th place finish in the BUCS overall league table and an impressive 11th in the women's sport table.

For 2022/23 we are looking forward to supporting our clubs again and encouraging everyone, not just those at University level sport, to participate in and enjoy some form of physical activity and exercise. Whether your ambition is to perform at the highest level, to start playing a sport you have not played before, to play socially or just to get more active, there will be great opportunities for you during your time here. Cambridge offers you a diverse range of competitive and recreational sporting activities with over 75 Sports Clubs and Societies, most of which you can join as a beginner.

Many of our University Clubs have members competing in BUCS leagues against their peers at other Universities throughout the season or within the wide-ranging individual sports competition programme. For team sports closer to home, there are a number of sports available via the inter-college competitions, which is an excellent way to get to know your college community and to enjoy sport in a more local and less time committed way.

As well as working with the Clubs to help them deliver a great sporting experience, the Sports Service also offers excellent facilities and services that are available to every student and staff member of the University. All are within 10 minutes by bike of the city centre, and include cricket and tennis (Fenner's), hockey pitches and an athletics track (Wilberforce Road) and the main Sports Centre at West Cambridge which offers excellent fitness, strength and conditioning facilities together with all you would expect to find in terms of courts and group exercise classes.

Being involved with a sports club provides great opportunities to meet new people and to share purposeful activity outside the academic environment. Whether it's casual, College or University-level sport, these experiences can forge lifelong friendships and memories and to make the most of your time here in Cambridge.

We look forward to welcoming you into Cambridge Sport.

Sport at Cambridge

The University of Cambridge has over 75 sports clubs and societies accommodating everyone from beginners to elite athletes across team and individual sports.

Competitions

There is a wide range of ways in which you can get involved with competitive and recreational sport at Cambridge. From experienced athletes to those that just want to compete once in a while, you will be able to find a sport that suits your appetite and schedule.

BUCS

British Universities & Colleges Sport (BUCS) is the national governing body for Higher Education (HE) sport in the UK. We regularly place within the top 20 in the country with over 40 different Sports Clubs representing the University of Cambridge in BUCS team and individual competitions across league and cup structures.

Varsity

Cambridge competes against Oxford University in over 180 Varsity matches taking place throughout the year. Whether it's the Boat Race on the Tideway or a 2nd XI match in front of friends and family, the Varsity matches are the highlight of the sporting calendar.

College Sport

The inter-collegiate programme provides significant competitive and social sporting opportunities for students with, for example, around 1600 people competing in the May Bumps (college rowing) alone. Many more participate in casual sport, fitness and wellbeing activities. The majority of colleges have teams for badminton, football, netball, rowing and rugby. Contact your college for more information on the provisions for sport and how you can get involved.

Sports Fair

Visit the Sports Fair at the beginning of Michaelmas Term to meet University Sports Clubs and Societies, and the Sports Service team, to find out about how to get involved with sport and keep active.

Sports Awards

To celebrate our amazing clubs and athletes, in Easter Term each year the Sports Service runs our annual Sports Awards. It's a great way to end the season with a chance to come together and celebrate our achievements over the academic year.

Performance Sport

UCAPP

University of Cambridge
Athlete Performance
Programme

The University of Cambridge Athlete Performance

Programme (UCAPP) has been established to offer high performance athletes at undergraduate or post graduate level the opportunity of a professional and co-ordinated support services network in order to improve their performance as an athlete. This programme has been set up thanks to the kind generosity of Mark Hanson (Girton, 1985) who was a Modern Pentathlete during his time at Cambridge. This programme aims to provide core services that any high performance athlete would benefit from including Lifestyle management, physiotherapy, strength and conditioning, nutrition advice, sports psychology support and Gym membership. Since UCAPP was introduced in 2018/2019 over 60 athletes have been a part of the programme, many have gone on to great success. Athletes have had their first senior international call-ups, and attended World Championships, medalled at BUCS and competed in their first Olympic games whilst being part of the programme.

For more information, view: sport.cam.ac.uk/ucapp or contact ucapp@sport.cam.ac.uk

Alongside UCAPP the University of Cambridge is also a Talented Athlete Scholarship Scheme (TASS) delivery site.

TASS is a Sport England funded partnership between talented athletes, delivery sites and national governing bodies (NGBs) of sport. Athletes are selected by NGBs for TASS and are then partnered and supported by delivery sites. TASS helps athletes, aged 16 or above, to balance sport within the rest of their lives, be they in education or another form of personal development. Nationwide there are around 800 talented athletes from 37 different sports accessing support services from one of 40 delivery sites. Cambridge has been a delivery site for a number of years working with TASS athletes that have gone on to the very highest level including the Olympic Games, and various elite competitions.

Last year the University of Cambridge was awarded a TASS Dual Career Accreditation certificate. This formally recognises Cambridge's commitment to helping athletes reach their potential in both their education and sport. We aim to deliver an athlete-centred support structure that enables students to balance their studies and sports training and competitive programmes effectively. Cambridge does not expect any student athlete to compromise on their studies or sporting ambitions while pursuing a Dual Career, which this accreditation confirms.

For more information regarding TASS please see the following links: www.tass.gov.uk/ and www.sport.cam.ac.uk/performance-sport/talented-athlete-scholarship-scheme-tass
