Welcome to the University of Cambridge and I hope you find this guide to our University Sports Clubs helpful.

With over 75 sports clubs and societies Cambridge offers you a diverse range of competitive and recreational sport. Whether your ambition is to perform at the highest level or to start playing a sport you have not played before there will be great opportunities for you during your time here.

Many University teams compete against their peers at other Universities in BUCS competitions throughout the season, some also play in National or regional leagues and there are possibilities for individual representation also. For team sports closer to home there is a good range of sports available via the inter-college competitions.

The highlight of the sporting calendar for many Light Blue clubs is their annual Varsity Match against the Dark Blue rivals Oxford. There are over 140 Varsity matches in total and, while only a relatively few students earn a University Blue, everyone recalls their personal and team highlights from this traditional rivalry.

As well as working with the clubs to help them deliver a great sporting experience, the Sports Service offers excellent facilities and services that are available to every student and member of staff. The University Sports Centre at the West Cambridge site is only a 10 minute bike ride from the centre of the City and on the way you will pass Wilberforce Road Sportsground which now has 3 floodlit hockey pitches in addition to the athletics track.

If just keeping fit and healthy rather team sports is your choice then taking advantage of the Cambridge Sport membership enables you to book courts to play sport with friends, to join in the group exercise classes or use the gyms.

If you overdo it or have an injury concern, there is the newly opened Physio and Sports Injury Clinic at the Sports Centre with top quality experienced staff and discounted prices for student and staff members.

In addition to the well documented benefits for individual health and wellbeing, sport has the ability to bring people together in a shared endeavour. These experiences forge lifelong memories and friendships.

BUCS

British Universities & Colleges Sport (BUCS) is the national governing body for Higher Education (HE) sport in the UK. College Sport

The inter-collegiate programme provides significant competitive and social sporting opportunities for students with, for example, around 1600 people competing in the May Bumps (college rowing) alone. Many more participate in casual sport, fitness and wellbeing activities. The majority of colleges have teams for badminton, football, netball, rowing and rugby. Contact your college for more information on the provisions for sport and how you can get involved.

Amateur Boxing

Cambridge University Amateur Boxing Club (CUABC) is one of the toughest and most prestigious sports teams in Cambridge. Each season, around 250 men and women compete for one of the coveted 12 places on the Varsity Team. The annual Varsity Match against Oxford is the longest-running inter-club amateur boxing fixture in the world.

Visceral and exhilarating, CUABC is an experience like no other.
